A Message of The Most Important Silk Sale Ever Held at Korrick's

—3000 yards of imported pongee in natural colors—go on sale Saturday at prices that we would have to pay for the same quality today.
—Korrick's reproduction of the importer's letter printed below shows the silk situation today—also the saving in placing our orders before the prices advanced.
—It's your opportunity to save, too. Imported pongee is most in demand for summer dresses, waists, coats and separate skirts.

Not the Envelope—but what the Envelope contains—is what accounts for the wonderfully successful sale of Wirthmor Waists everywhere.

These four new charming styles in Wirthmor Waists go on sale tomorrow. As always they're just $1.00 and as always they're exclusive models—and could not be bought elsewhere at any price.

It's true that Wirthmor Waists are (and have been from their very inception years ago) packed in sanitary transparent envelopes. It's not, however, the method of packing that's responsible for their wonderfully successful sale—but the extreme desirability of the waists themselves. Wirthmor Waists are always neat, simple, refined in style—and so made as to insure lasting satisfaction. That's why they sell so well—and that's why every woman who buys them once will buy them again and again. No other waists of the same or somewhat higher prices compare with the Wirthmor in value.

Unless the envelope is stamped Wirthmor the waist the envelope contains is not a Wirthmor. And remember this, that Wirthmor Waists, in this city, are sold in just this one store.

DOUBLY WEDDING OF THIS COUPLE

Married According to Protestant Rites
Charles Forbes and Violet
Smith to Marry Again

After being married for three weeks Charles Forbes, night clerk of the Jefferson hotel and Violet Smith will become man and wife according to the ritual of the Catholic church.

Wednesday Forbes and the pretty girl to whom he has been engaged for the past six weeks were married by Reverend F. B. Anderson of the Catholic church. Twenty-one days from the time of their marriage they will again go through the ceremony and this time Father Novatus will be asked to officiate.

"We had planned to have both ceremonies performed the same day," said Forbes last evening, but decided to get married sooner than we had expected. Then of course we had to give up the idea of the church wedding because our names had not been called. We realized that it would take three weeks before we can be married by priest and that's an awfully long time to wait when you have been engaged twice that length of time. We did not mean to let anyone know we were married until after the sanction of my church but the newspapers do get hold of things."

Forbes has been in Phoenix for five years and knows every traveler who ever registered here. He has the reputation of giving the strictest kind of attention to a guests' wants and until last January when attractive Violet Smith came to act as telephone girl he never knew that a woman existed unless she inquired for her mail.

Miss Smith worked in the evenings. So did Forbes and soon the attaches of the hotel were whispering among themselves and predicting the very thing that has happened to the two young people. The bride formerly lived in Los Angeles. She came here to visit her sister, Mrs. William Kries and soon she will have a cozy bungalow on the Indian School road near that of her sister.

KENT BLOSSOMS OUT AS A PLAYWRIGHT

Judge Edward Kent won fame as a playwright and producer last night when he presented Miss Ruth Griffin with a star support in "His Tonsils" at the Country Club.

Based on "The Tenor" from "Short Sixes" by Bonner, Judge Kent has written one of the cleverest sketches that has ever been presented locally. The stage settings were unusually attractive. The room of the hero in a modern apartment house was the scene for the entire play and was nicely staged. The lighting effects were excellent, H. L. Allen being responsible for this feature.

The tenor around whom the fun revolved, was well taken by John Rinker Kibbey. Mrs. E. J. Bennett was his wife and played the part for all that was in it. Miss Ruth Griffin unquestionably the most talented of all amateurs was adorable as the girl who "was crazy" about the tenor. She answers an "ad" for a waitress that she might see him in his own house and is of course disillusioned. Mrs. Harold Baxter as her friend was very good indeed as was Mrs. Joe Green in the role of the Irish servant. Mrs. Herbert Burr Atha and Irving Miller of the play committee were largely responsible for the success of the affair.

A dinner of one hundred covers preceded the play which was followed by dancing.

SAYS POLICE COURT

HASN'T ANY POWER

Contending that the city magistrate has no power to commit a felony case to the superior court, W. L. Barnum, attorney for Fred Gardiner, the negro charged with procuring false registration filed a motion yesterday to have the information against Gardiner set aside.

This point will be argued at nine o'clock this morning by Mr. Barnum and associate counsel, E. B. Goodwin for Gardiner and County Attorney Gandy who stated in court yesterday that the city court had complete jurisdiction.

"This is the first felony case that has ever come in from the police court and I do not doubt the validity of the law," said Mr. Gandy.

OGELSBY IS GIVEN

ONE TO FIVE YEARS

Judge Stanford yesterday passed sentence on James H. Ogelsby who on Thursday pleaded guilty of assault with intent to commit rape. The court before pronouncing sentence in this case permitted the eighteen year old boy to review the circumstances of his meeting with Bessie Gremman and the subsequent happenings.

In giving Ogelsby an indeterminate sentence of from one to five years, Judge Stanford spoke of his youth and advised him not to let his prison record hinder him in future life. Felipe Martinez who pleaded guilty to burglarizing the Western Tailoring establishment was given from one to two years while Juan Moreno, Francisco Valdez and Samuel Gutierrez, who stood trial for the same offense and was found guilty by a jury were given from two to five years.

Jesus Ramos who pleaded guilty to assault with a deadly weapon must serve in the state prison from one to two years.
